'1984' CHARDONNAY

yamhill-carlton

Planted in 1984, these own-rooted vines at the Stein Family Vineyard consistently produce small clusters with concentrated flavor, offering us an opportunity to appreciate the heritage of this diverse valley. These weathered vines are in various stages of succumbing to Phylloxera, providing a complex array of aromatics as long as they continue to bear fruit. We felt compelled to highlight this unique site and these vines, in particular, before they're gone.
